

August/September Newsletter

1 Day, 3 Events Saturday, September 9th

The Goodlettsville Fire Department invites you to run in their annual fundraiser for the Christmas for Kids Program. The run location is Gateway Christian Center at 120 East Avenue in Goodlettsville. The Fun Run kicks off at 7:30am, and at 8:00am the 5K begins. For more info and to register online, visit ACTIVE.COM. Search "Goodlettsville Stop, Drop and Run for the Kids Race".

Community Stream Cleanup

Participants will meet at Public Works at 215 Cartwright Street at 9:00am to sign-in and get supplies. Gloves, bags, t-shirts, water, grabbers, certificates and lunch are provided. Call Warren Garret at 615-859-2740 for more info.

New name - same festival! This is the new name for the Arts, Antiques & Music Festival. Join in for a full day of non-stop action and fun for all ages. Live music, crafts, a kid's zone, car show, antiques, art, food, and all that is good in Goodlettsville. This event takes place around Goodlettsville City Hall from 10:00am-4:00pm.

New Service! We recycle used oil at the Public Works Convenience Center at 215 Cartwright Street on Wednesdays from 11am-4pm and Saturdays from 8am-3pm. We can accept motor oil, gear oil, and transmission fluid only, and it must be in a clean container.

Tax Relief & Tax Freeze Programs

Representatives from both Davidson and Sumner counties will be at Goodlettsville City Hall on September 7th & 8th from 8am-4pm to enroll qualifying senior citizens in tax relief and tax freeze programs.

Bring documents proving age, ownership and income of ALL owners of the property.

GET ECLIPSED IN

Goodlettsville is also throwing an Eclipse Kick-off Party the night before with music and food trucks at the Bowen House at Moss-Wright Park from 5:00-7:00pm.

Event info: www.geteclipsedingoodlettsville.com

Little Free Library "Take a Book, Return a Book"

That's the official motto of the Little Free Library, four of which have popped up around Goodlettsville. The free standing libraries look like birdhouses. You can find them at the Peay Park playground beside the Delmas Long Community Center, the Visitors Center by Historic Mansker's Station, the Fire Department Hall, and the new Gateway Park in the Gateway neighborhood.

